An online program to achieve PMP® certification

This online program creates a study group across your globally distributed project managers who will collectively make sense of the PMBOK® content and how it relates to your organisation’s project practice.

The PMP® certification is widely regarded as ‘the’ industry standard for project management - with improved performance on strategic project goals and enhanced status in front of customers and amongst peers.

Achieving PMP® requires focus, self-discipline and motivation which can be difficult in the midst of busy project life. This is where a structured program and a supportive study group makes a huge difference and greatly improves the chances of passing the exam at first attempt.
